A Few Words on Designs

Wallpaper for Windows™ is available in a variety of designs. Which ones appeal to you will depend upon your preferences and decorating style. However, there are six main categories that these designs fit into: etched glass, privacy glass, glass block, stained glass, decorative accents, and faith-inspired glass.

Stained Glass. Stained glass adds beauty to any decor, but for most people its expense keeps stained glass out of reach. Wallpaper for Windows stained glass designs look just like hand-crafted stained glass but at a fraction of the price. This is a wonderful option if you want colorful, beautiful windows for less. Stained glass also comes in a privacy style, which combines the function of privacy glass with the beauty of stained glass.

Etched Glass. Etched glass has the look and feel of expensive frosted and etched glass artwork that elegantly coordinates with most decors. It is very versatile because not only is it beautiful, it also reduces visibility both day and night, whether you have the lights on or off. Etched glass lets the light through but diffuses harsh sunlight.

Privacy Glass. Privacy glass allows light through while obscuring views both in and out. This is a great option for high-visibility areas that require some privacy, as well as areas that yield unattractive views. The level of privacy can be customized with full or partial coverage.

Glass Block. This option has the beautiful look and feel of expensive glass block at a fraction of the price. It works well for glass entry doors and patio doors. Glass block not only has a beautiful appearance, but it can also be used to increase privacy or hide a bad view.

Faith-Inspired Glass. Ideal for both homes and churches, artwork featuring expressions of faith can add both privacy and beauty, while making an elegant statement.

Decorative Accents. Using centerpieces, borders, and corner accents is a great way to give your glass doors a custom-designed, expensive look. And the options are endless!

Stained glass

If you are looking to add a custom look and some color to your decor but don't want to spend a lot of money, stained glass designs may provide the answer you are looking for. Stained glass is beautiful and colorful, adds interest, and is available in clear designs which do not obstruct the outside view and privacy designs which obscure the view. From the entranceway to the kitchen, to the living room and bedrooms, stained glass designs bring a beautiful energy to a room.

Full coverage

If you are looking for complete privacy and an elegant look, there are several designs that will provide full coverage while adding beauty to your home. Perhaps you have a bathroom window that you feel reveals too much?

Try one of the many patterns designed to promote privacy while also adding beauty to your home. These will cover your windows completely but will still allow light to filter through. You can trim the design to fit the size of your window if needed.

Allow about 15 minutes for trimming, and another 15 minutes for installation.

Half coverage

If you are looking to add some privacy but also see out, a half window screen might do the trick. For this treatment, apply the decorative panel to the bottom half of the window only. A half screen on a window of normal height will usually screen those in the room from the shoulders down.

The designs are easily trimmed to fit the bottom half of your window. This should take about 15 minutes. Installation will take another 10 or 15 minutes.
